Gold Higher and Money Easier Government and Railroad Bonds Steady.

SATURDAY, NOV. 15-6 P. M. The condition of the market remains unchanged. Especulation was confined almost entirely to the brokers in the board and to such outside parties as sit around telegraph tapes and give their orders from hour to hour. Much the same results are being now experienced that were shown in the winter of 1857-'58, after the panie of the former sudden strength was communicated to stocks, peculation promised something like permanency, and an artificial elasticity was created which is a summarized as the communicated to stocks, lowing were the bids as amended as the communicated to stocks, lowing were the bids as amended as the communication of year, and after the Chicago fire, when, for a time, to more than usual activity. Subsequently, however, an equally sudden decline occurred, and it was not until then that the market began its

REAL RECUPERATIVE WORK. A similar process is going on at the present time. Speculators are loading themselves with stock at a rate which sooner or later must be secked from sheer inability on their part to mainsain themselves. Even now there is much secret aloading. The shrewdest operators in the country are going "short" of the market. Actual investors are fighting shy. The market is not in an tiltude that invites confidence. Its sustaining ower is purely artificial. Feverishness prevails and is manifest in a constant expectancy that something may occur which will compet a decline even more rapid than the recent advance. Ask even the so-called "bulls" their reasons for the present movement, and they will recite no other ause than that somebody has led and they are following. Touch them with even a rumor and hey weaken instantly, as was the case yesterday when it was announced that Commodore Vander bir had suddenly died. Argue the points of the situation and there is not a man in the "street" who will not in the end confess that the pending strength is only temporary, and out of all propor-which daily illustrate the weakness resulting from contraction that is affecting every real value in the country. While earnings on our railroads are eing reduced, while the extensions of commerctal paper remain unsettled, while great firms and mail are struggling to uphold themselves, while the banks are confessedly weak, showing at least $20,000,000 of loan certificates in hand, against, Bay, $28,000,000 of legal tenders, and holding piles on piles of depreciated paper on which they have given discounts; while there is no actual resiliency in manufactures, no additional productive power, no advance, in fact, in any department of trade, good sense dictates that a mere speculative martet, on the basis of present Wall street operations, cannot be long sustained, and does not justify any man outside of the Stock Exchange, especially residents beyond the limits of New York, in making permanent invest-ments. Decline must obey- a law that no power can resist. When that occurs and prices have reached a point where investment is safe the adlike reason will take the place of the present frantic feeling with which men dance around each other in the board, and halloo prices up or down among themselves according to their credit in to-day was strong at the opening and during the active business hours of the day, but towards the close declined to 4 a 5 per cent on call loans. Dis-Foreign exchange is lower and quoted at 106% for prime bankers' 60-day sterling for sales. The nomal rate continues at 107. For sight the rate is 108% a 108%. The banks continue to gain plegal tenders, and now are said to hold $28,265,000, the amount previously held being augmented since yesterday by the sum of $630,000. The Clearing House Committee state that $6,700,000 of floan certificates have been retired from the highest oint, but decline to give the total amount issued. It is more than probable that the amount is not var from $25,000,000 or $27,000,000, though much higher figures have been named.

THE GOLD MARKET. Gold showed extreme sympathy to-day with the warious reports of a warlike character, and opened strong at 109 %. It receded subsequently, however, no 108%, with a recovery to 109%, at which the operations of the day closed. The following table

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON. Nov. 15, 1873.

The wool market has shown signs of improvement during the past few days, although on some of the sales there was a further concession in price of 2c. to 3c. per 1b., yet buyers have been more numerous, including some of the largest manufacturers, and it appears as if the lowest point of depression was past and that henceforth a more active market is highly probable. Prices are still tregular, owing to the difference made between cash buyers and those who require the usual time, and it is therefore difficult to luthish rabble quotations. Large loss of the difference made between cash buyers and those who require the usual time, and it is therefore difficult to luthish rabble quotations. Large loss of the content of th

THE CITY COUNCILMEN.

Help for the Poor Laborers-A Million Dollars Additional Appropriation To Be Made for the Work of the Departments-A Fine Row in the Board of Aldermen-The Pathers Attemnt to Arrest Each Other for Contempt-Are the County Canvassers Exempt from Aldermanic Duty!

Ten members signed a call for a special meeting of the Aldermen for general business. Alderman Morris had a resolution prepared which authorized the Roard of Estimates to increase the appropriation for Public Works by $2,000,000 for the employment of workmen. It provides that $1,000,000 shall be disbursed by the Department of Parks and the Department of Public Works respectively, upon work already ordered, including the Eastern Ronlevard, Riverside Park, the East Side Park and the Morning Side Park. The resolution provides that the ruling wages shall be paid, and none shall be employed except they have been residents of the city for three months preceding the passage of the resolution.

When five o'clock arrived Aldermen Flanagan. McCafferty, Reilly, Lysaght, Ottendorier, Cooper, Kehr and Koch were absent, and no business could be done. Some of the members said they were dodging, as one of the matters to be considered was to take the Industrial Exhibition appropiation from the taole and kill it. The roll call showed seven members present. The President said he would, if instructed, send the Sergeant-at-Arms for them and bring them here under arrest if necessary.

Mr. MONBEIMER-I move to send the order of arrest and sergeant to Mr. Cooper's house and bring him here. It is now half-past five.

Mr. CLAUSEN-It is too late. We meet as county canvassers at five.

Mr. Billings moved a call of the house, and it

mr. Billings moved a call of the house, and it was ordered after the roll call. The sergeants were ordered to bring absentees in, under arrest, and they disappeared.

Mr. Morris (looking at two Assistant Aldermen) — There are two half Aldermen here, I move they be shoved into one and a quorum made.

At five o'clock a sergeant-at-arms returned, and reported that Mr. Flanagan declined to appear, as it was within three minutes of the hour for resuming the county canvass.

At a quarter past five Alderman Ottendorfer, who had been sent for, with a carriage, arrived, and was greeted with a cheer. One was still required for a quorum, as Mr. Clausen had gone to the county canvasses. Mr. Ottendorfer was sent after Clausen. The Board of County Canvassers were in session, and when the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Aldermen appeared to arrest the County Canvassers, County Canvasser Kenlly moved and County Canvassers, County Canvasser Kenlly moved and County Canvasser, County Canvasser Renlly moved and County Canvassers, conveyed his message, but made no arrests. Neither did Sergeant-at-Arms Reaffield, of the canvassers, conveyed his message, but made no arrests. Neither did Sergeant-at-Arms Reaffield, of the canvassers, on veyed his message, but made no arrests. Neither did Sergeant-at-Arms Reaffield, of the canvassers, and each ignored the order of the other. Mr. Vance, of the Aldermen, finding that the county canvassers would not obey, reported Messrs. Flanagan, Lysaght, McCafferty, Kehr, Reilly and Clausen in contempt, and the Board adjourned.

Messis, Flanagan, Lysagit, McCallerty, Kehr, Reilly and Clausen in contempt, and the Board adjourned.

Several of the Aldermen reported in contempt stated to a Herally reporter that they did not attend the meeting because the cabai who met as Aldermen would not inform them as to the object of the special meeting, merely consenting to inform them that Mr. Alderman Van Schaick wanted a special meeting, and that their duties as County Canvassers were paramount to those of Aldermen.

The following highly important resolutions were also adopted:—

Whereas the evil effects of the species of speculation that gave to great public enterprises actitions values, the combinations of labors that have taken from the day twenty per cent of the time allotted and recognized hereafore as the standard of a day's work, and increased the compensation for the remaining portion from twenty to twenty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, thereby adding from forty to rorty five per cent, the construction, with many extranegys, though minor causes, have resulted, as might have been foreseen, in widespread panic and run, injuriously, affecting not alone the laboring clauses, but capitalists and business men throughout the country, and now begre with a weight of daily introduced the country.
